

Virginia Test — Engagement & Budget

What Dr. Wagner wires to Kingdom Broker LLC to build, launch, and manage the ProMed VA test — lean and Charlottesville-first.

The engagement: Dr. Wagner funds the test; Kingdom Broker LLC (Eric Skeldon) manages everything — the platform + funnels, the ad test, the owned-list outreach, and the team Eric hires to build, deploy, and run it — and reports results. Cancellable anytime with 14 days' written notice. Dr. Wagner engages his own healthcare counsel directly (NOT billed by Kingdom Broker).

One-Time Setup (Month 1)

Item	Amount	What it covers
Platform, valuation tools & funnels	$5,000	The ProMed VA landing page, "Value My Clinic" valuation tool, qualification intake, and admin dashboard — already built — plus configuration, localization, and deployment for the Virginia test.
Video + content launch	$3,000	AI-avatar + explainer videos, problem/solution edits, and Value-My-Clinic software demos — no founder on camera (ProMed VA stays corporate; Dr. Wagner is not named or shown).
One-time setup subtotal	$8,000

Monthly (recurring — cancel anytime, 14-day notice)

Item	Monthly	What it covers
Paid ad budget	$5,000	Meta + Google, concentrated on the two test cities (Charlottesville + one metro) — not spread thin across the state. Also runs traffic to the free "Value My Clinic" tool as a low-cost top-of-funnel lead magnet.
Kingdom Broker management fee — Eric Skeldon	$3,000	Eric manages the build, hires + runs the team, manages ad spend + outreach, and reports to Dr. Wagner. Cancel anytime, 14-day notice.
Team (hired + managed by Kingdom)	$2,500	Part-time media buyer + appointment-setter/outreach + content editor to build, deploy, and run the test.

Broker)
Lists, data, email tooling + platform hosting	$500	Owned 24K list (~$0) + sending infra, enrichment, list cleaning; Vercel / Supabase / Claude API (valuation tool) / email.
Monthly subtotal	$11,000 / mo total

What to Wire

~$19K Month 1 — one-time setup + first month	$11K each month after (recurring, total)	~$41K full 3-month lean test, all-in

Success Fee — Kingdom Broker's Upside (to finalize)

On top of the management engagement, Kingdom Broker earns a success fee for every chiropractor partner it sources and closes through the funnel — so KB is paid for results, not just activity. Proposed, to be finalized with Dr. Wagner:

- Lease partnership signed: a flat success fee per signed chiropractor (e.g., $5,000-$10,000), or a percentage of first-year partnership revenue (rent + cash-service commission).
- Phase-2 acquisition: a success fee of roughly 2-4% of acquisition value, and/or a carried share of the 4% profit-sharing on practices Kingdom Broker brings in.

This success-fee structure is proposed and open — to be agreed with Dr. Wagner. It aligns Kingdom Broker with the only thing that matters: signed, performing chiropractor partners.

Engagement Terms (so nobody works for free)

- Paid monthly in advance. The management fee + team retainer are wired at the start of each month — Kingdom Broker is always paid before it does that month's work.
- Cancel with 14 days' written notice before the next billing date. Notice 14+ days before the next monthly date stops that charge and the engagement ends at the close of the current paid month. Notice inside 14 days means the next month still bills and is worked (team + commitments already committed), then ends.
- Current month is non-refundable (work already underway); the one-time setup ($5K platform + video) is earned on delivery.
- Ad spend is pass-through — the $5,000/mo is pre-funded into the ad account; any unused budget is returned on cancellation. Kingdom Broker never floats or owes ad money.

- Success-fee tail: if Kingdom Broker sourced a chiropractor who signs within 90 days after cancellation, the agreed success fee is still earned — so the sourcing work is never done for free.

What This Buys (the lean test)

- A live, localized ProMed VA funnel + valuation tool + admin dashboard for Charlottesville.
- A Kingdom-Broker-managed ad test + owned-list outreach, concentrated where it can actually work.
- A team Eric hires and runs to build, deploy, and operate the test end-to-end.
- Goal: 10-20 qualified applications across the two test cities and the first signed partner — the case study to justify scaling city-by-city.

Why Two Cities (Not Eleven)

At a conservative ~$450 per qualified application, $5,000/mo of ads yields ~10-12 qualified applications per month. Concentrated on two cities — Charlottesville (warm network) plus one metro — that volume builds toward the 10-20 application floor in each over the test window, with Charlottesville leading. Spreading the same budget across all eleven cities would clear the floor in none. Prove two, then scale.
